

To whom it may concern,
But out. The local radio stations don't own the rights to report traffic and weather. No one owns the right to this information. if this were the case, then only one radio station in each market could broadcast weather and traffic. Ridicules. If the local radio stopped wasteing time on the frivolous legislation, spent it on thinking of ways to make radio more palatible, maybe they could compete with satelite radio.